

MILITIA ON GUARD
AT OMAHA TODAYPACKING HOUSE SURROUNDED
BY STATE TROOPS.

The Omaha Packers Get Protection—Many Small Riots Occurred Yesterday—Miners at Ladd, Ill., Return to Work—Turbulence Subdued At Spring Valley.

OMAHA, August 10.—Four companies of militia are on guard at the packing house today. There is considerable excitement but everything is quiet. After a conference lasting ten hours between the state, municipal, and county authorities and the packers, in which the situation was thoroughly canvassed, the packers refused to continue business without the presence of state troops, and the governor issued the necessary orders. The Omaha guards and Thurston rifles, which have been under arms at their armories for several nights, were at once started for the scene of the disturbance. Other companies from the interior of the state will come to-day. There were numerous small riots and interference with workmen reported yesterday.

MINERS AT LADD AT WORK.

Shafts in Full Operation, and There Is Much Rejoicing Thereat.

LADD, Ill., Aug. 10.—The coal miners of Ladd and Seatonville have returned to work upon the Columbus scale and the shafts at both places are in full operation. A large number of miners from Spring Valley made applications at both places for work, but were refused on the ground that the home people must be cared for first.

MORRIS, Ill., Aug. 10.—The coal strike which began April 21 was officially declared off yesterday. Deputy Sheriff Alders, who has been stationed at Carbon Hill with a large number of deputies, telegraphed Sheriff Daniels that the strike had been declared off and asked that conveyances be sent for the removal of his men, the situation being no longer considered dangerous.

Want Pay for Being on Strike.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 10.—The grand lodge of the Order of Railway Conductors of America having rejected the claims made by the men who quit work during the Lehigh Valley strike last year, John H. Wiles and forty-seven other members began suits in the Supreme court yesterday to recover a sum aggregating $12,000 as strike pay, at the rate of $50 a month. The suits will be tried in September. Vice Grand Conductor Wilkinson was here trying to arrange a compromise, but was not successful.

Poles Not Allowed to Congregate.

LA SALLE, Ill., Aug. 10.—Serious trouble was avoided here through the action of Sheriff Taylor, in preventing the miners of Spring Valley and others of the surrounding towns from attending the funeral of Anton Schurman. The burial took place quietly. The militia, deputies and the Peru home guards were present at the funeral, while the La Salle home guards were kept in the barracks ready to respond for duty. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of justifiable homicide.

A. R. U. Man Arrested.

BRAZIL, Ind., Aug. 10.—Grant Agnew, deputy United States marshal, came from Indianapolis yesterday and placed under arrest A. D. Smith, president of the local A. R. U., and John Comer, a striking railroad worker. They were charged with contempt of United States court. The prisoners were taken to Indianapolis. Several of the strikers have applied for work and it is believed the strike will be called off in a short time.

Gov. Nelson Will Act.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 10.—Gov. Nelson has received from Secretary Danforth of the Commercial club a letter notifying him of the appointment of a committee to act in the endeavor to secure the reinstatement of all A. R. U. men not offensive during the strike. The governor replied he would serve and do all in his power to further the desires of the men.

All Quiet at La Salle.

SPRING VALLEY, Ill., Aug. 10.—Everything is quiet in Spring Valley and nothing is talked about but the La Salle tragedy of Wednesday. The miners have not yet receded from their position in refusing to treat with Manager Dalzell.

SITUATION AT PULLMAN.

Works in Running Order, Though Skilled Mechanics Are Scarce.

PULLMAN, Ill., Aug. 10.—With the exception of two departments every shop of the Pullman works was in operation yesterday. The two departments which did not start up were the freight and street car. Nothing was done in these shops because of lack of orders and it may be some time before business will justify their reopening. Many of the old men are preparing to leave the town. About 225 tool chests were taken from the shops during the morning. They are owned by the skilled workmen, whose places have not been filled, although the shops are in operation. The removal of the chests is taken as a last indication that the men will not return to their posts, although they are offered a chance before strangers

MOB THE POLICE.

Riot in Milwaukee Over the Smallpox Question.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 10.—There was a desperate riot between the police and a portion of the south side people last night as the first result of the mayor's proclamation. An attempt was made by the people to hold a mass meeting to discuss the smallpox situation, and a squad of police undertook to disperse the gathering, a free fight resulting. Five policemen were dangerously wounded, while a dozen of their comrades were hurt. The injured among the populace are unknown, but cracked skulls and battered faces are plenty. Eleven prisoners were captured by the police before the crowd commenced to disperse. More serious trouble is feared.

Investigation Still in a Muddle.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—The conferees on the immigration bill met yesterday and adjourned after two hours' discussion without reaching any agreement. The differences are wide since Senator Hill's bill, most of which relates to the exclusion of anarchists, bears little resemblance to the measure introduced by Representative Stone of Pennsylvania for consular inspection of immigrants abroad, for which the anti-anarchist bill is a substitute.

Boutelle Attacks the President.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—In the house yesterday Mr. Boutelle (rep., Maine), speaking to a question of personal privilege, denied a published imputation that he had introduced for political purposes resolutions recognizing the new Hawaiian republic. He sharply criticized the course of the administration in the matter.

In the morning hour Mr. Meyer (dem., La.) again called upon the bill to promote the efficiency of the militia. Mr. Fithian (dem., Ill.) denounced the government for sending federal troops into Illinois without first receiving a request from the governor.

Mr. Meyer (dem., La.) and Mr. Cannon (rep., Ill.) defended the action, declaring that the President had done his duty.

The morning hour expired without action on the bill, and at 2:15 p. m. under the special order, the remainder of the day was devoted to business reported from the committee on claims.

In the course of two and a half hours six relief bills were passed by the house. Then at 4:30 p. m. the house adjourned.

Illinois Town Burns.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Aug. 10.—Gifford, a thriving town in the northeastern part of this county, suffered the extinction of its business section by fire last night. Twenty-one business houses, two grain elevators, the Illinois Central depot, extensive grain cribs, and lumber sheds were burned. Ice's drug store, Beacham's dry goods store, and a livery stable are all that is left of a fine business center. The loss will amount to $100,000. The fire had everything its own way as the town had no apparatus with which to fight it. The loss is covered partly by insurance.

Wyoming Democrats Agree.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Aug. 10.—It was nearly midnight last night when the democratic state convention finally agreed upon a ticket after a wrangle lasting fifteen hours. It is as follows: Governor, W. H. Ladd, and Ed Bonner had a fight over a young lady, in which Ladd cut Bonner with a knife so that he died from the effects of the wound. Ladd is under arrest.

Mexican Corn Crop Will Be a Failure.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Owing to drought the first crop of corn of Mexico will be almost a failure. In the northern states it is learned that the wheat yield is very light and unless the late corn crop should prove to be unusually fine large importations of cereals from the United States will have to be made.

Think It Was a Dynamite Bomb.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—An explosion took place in a wagon loaded with empty boxes, near Armour's packing house in the heart of the stock yards, at 6:30 o'clock last evening. CROWDED CARS DROP
OFF A HIGH TRESTLEMANY PASSENGERS KILLED ON THE ROCK ISLAND.

Disaster Occurs Near Lincoln, Neb., on the Union Pacific Road—Cars Catch Fire and Burn Up—List of Killed and Injured—Cause of the Accident Unknown.

OMAHA, Aug. 10.—The north bound passenger train on the Rock Island, No. 8, due in this city at 11:40 p. m., crashed through a trestle at a point four miles north of Lincoln at 10 o'clock. Eight persons are known to have been killed and many injured. The wreck caught fire and four men who escaped uninjured were prevented from doing much at recovering the helpless passengers. Wrecking trains were dispatched to the scene of the disaster.

The engine and combination car went over the bridge, leaving the coaches suspended in the trestle. Two passengers and a brakeman of the end coach were not injured. They managed to release two others.

The killed: DEPEW, I. K., engineer. STANDARD, C. D., conductor. FIREMAN.

THREE TRAVELING MEN AND TWO FARMERS.

The engineer and fireman are buried under the engine. Others are supposed to have been buried in the wreck.

The injured: BELL, I. S., of Lincoln. SCOTT, F. F., expressman. SHERRER, C. D., mail clerk. TRAVELING MAN.

About twelve others were injured, but their names are not known.

In response to a telephone message from the state prison, in the vicinity of the wreck, a party of physicians, police and fire department went to the scene and rendered all assistance possible.

The train was thundering along about forty miles an hour when it approached the bridge. The night was dark and there was no signal indicating any danger. As the engine entered the structure there was a crash, a straining of the wheels, and down it plunged. The impetus was so great that the cars were dragged along and all were piled up in a heap at the bottom.

In the front cars of the train were probably thirty passengers. The disaster came so suddenly and was so complete that none of those who still lived could realize what had happened. The awful fact alone was evident that the train was a mass of wreckage; that the passengers were crushed to death almost instantly, and that the others were lying bleeding and bruised, saved as if by a miracle from the same fate.

While the wreck was piled on the banks of the stream the cars took fire from the lamps and began to burn rapidly. The rescuers were unable successfully to fight the rapidly consuming flames and they devoted themselves to an endeavor to save the baggage of the passengers. The scene was lighted by the glare of the burning coaches, and the injured were conveyed to the roadside and to the nearest houses. All the passengers suffered bruises and slight cuts, but the least seriously hurt joined the farmers and railroad men who had been collected, and by the time the relief train from Lincoln had arrived all those disabled had been given slight attention. How the accident was caused has not yet been ascertained.

Wyoming Populists Nominate.

CASPER, Wyo., Aug. 10.—H. D. Merritt of Rawlins and Prof. Elliott of this city were elected chairman and secretary of the populist convention here yesterday. The platform declares in favor of free silver, is anti-invasion, and denounces federal interference in American railway union affairs. Following is the ticket: Governor, Tibbalt, Sheridan; secretary of state, Elliott, Cheyenne; auditor, Pierce, Green River; treasurer, Williams, Buffalo; superintendent of public instruction, Rollman, Saratoga; Supreme judge, O'Connor, Cheyenne.

Wait for Government Figures.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—People interested in corn were inclined to take a breathing spell yesterday after the two days' battle. However, prices were irregular and the feeling still nervous. All eyes are now turned in the direction of the forthcoming government crop report, which is expected to be bullish. This document will be given out to the country from Washington this afternoon, and if it is not up to the expectations of the bulls the bears will have some fun and perhaps "take a fall out of" the fancy prices.

EARTH AT MEMPHIS
ROCKS AND QUIVERSTHREE SHOCKS FELT EARLY
THIS MORNING.

People Rushed Out in Terror But Comparatively Little Damage Was Done—Numerous Seismic Disturbances Are Predicted Around the City of Mexico.

MEMPHIS, Aug. 10.—Three earthquake shocks occurred early this morning. People were greatly alarmed but very little damage was done.

CITY OF MEXICO, Aug. 10.—Considerable apprehension is felt in the volcanic zone in which the City of Mexico, Puebla and other populous Mexican cities are situated because of the predictions of Juan Contreras, the famous scientist of Guadalajara. Senor Contreras predicts that between tomorrow and Sunday the region about the volcano of Popocatepetl, southeast of this city, will receive an earthquake visitation, a disturbance also occurring between Aug. 15 and 18. Should the shocks miss this section they will be felt in the state of Oaxaca, to the south. Senor Contreras has made many predictions of earthquake in Mexico, nearly all of which have been verified by fact. He bases his calculations on the conjunction of the sun, moon, stars and subterranean forces.

The general offices of this road will be located in this city.

CAISSON BREAKS LOOSE.

Mare Island Dock Damaged Through Carelessness.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 10.—The large iron caisson which closed the dock at Mare Island navy yard broke from its fastenings last night and fell outward, sinking out of sight. Through carelessness a large quantity of water was let in the big basin after the docking of the United States steamship Thetis. When the tide went out the weight of the water inside forced the heavy caisson outward, tearing it from the fastenings. It is likely a court of inquiry will be held to fix the blame for the accident.

THAT NICE TARIFF PLAN UPSET.

President Demands That Coal and Iron be Free—Conferees Agree to Wait.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—No one about the capitol yesterday would assert that an agreement had been reached on the tariff, nor that there would be any possibility of a report yesterday. The confidence of an agreement which seemed to pervade every part of the capitol Wednesday has disappeared and the conferees appeared to have encountered obstacles to an agreement which may eventually result in a disagreement or will take several days to get over. It is stated by a close friend of the administration that the contentions in the President's letter for free iron ore and free coal have been only partially conceded and the inference is left that the house conferees are now standing out for free coal or free iron ore or both.

It was also said that the senate contention for the rates it had made in the woolen and metal schedules was found to be a decided obstacle in the way of an agreement and that when the point was reached where a tentative agreement or understanding upon the main points was in sight the house conferees found that the senators were unwilling to make suitable concessions on the manufacturing schedules. Thus the prospects of an end to the deadlock seemed to be farther away than Wednesday.

As to the time when a report can be made one in a position to know says even if an agreement should be reached it would take twenty-four hours to prepare a report in shape to be submitted to the senate.

The tariff conferees remained in session until a few minutes past 12 o'clock, and when they adjourned the senate conferees proceeded to the President's room, where they held a private consultation, free from interference and interruption. A report, however, soon gained general circulation which completely upset the reports generally circulated earlier in the day, as the later story was to the effect that an agreement had been absolutely arrived at and that it was on the lines of the understanding which was reached last night that iron ore should be made free, coal made dutiable at 40 cents per ton and that the compromise sugar schedule should stand. The indications point to the verification of this latter report.

The republican members of the conference had not at 12:30 received any formal notification to attend a meeting, but they had received an intimation that a full conference would be held and immediately began consultations with the leaders on that side of the chamber apparently with the view of preparing themselves for the final conflict which they believe to be at hand.

A petition was circulated yesterday among members of the house of representatives urging the house tariff conferees to stand by free sugar and a permanent income tax. Representative Bland started the petition and it was numerously signed.

Among the many rumors in circulation is one saying that it has been decided that the senate conferees should offer to the house free sugar with the rest of the senate bill practically intact. This would bring matters to a crisis at once. It is thought the house would accept such a compromise with pleasure. It is also stated on the authority of a treasury official that the conferees had agreed on the senate rate of $1.10 on whisky. What really has been done will likely be known to night.

Another Bridge Guard Shot At.

NEW CASTLE, Colo., Aug. 10.—The excitement over the shooting of a United States soldier guarding the Midland bridge was intensified last night by the firing of a shot by some unknown person at First Sergeant McKane. The military officials think they have located the party that did the shooting.

GOING INTO CAMP WITH FIFTY MEN

LIGHT INFANTRY WILL BE WELL REPRESENTED.

Not All Fun For the Boys—A Man Who Has Been Watching the Work Tells About Camp Life—Not an Event For "Tin Soldiers"—How the Men Drill.

The advance detail of the Janesville Light Infantry will go to Camp Douglas tonight. Quartermaster Sergeant Farmer McCarthy has engaged C. M. Feign and Columbus Mehans as cooks and the boys will live well.

Capt. C. F. Glass will take the Light Infantry, 50 strong, to Camp Douglas Sunday. The boys have been drilling hard and expect to make a good showing. A great many people suppose that when the soldier boys go to camp it is a sort of a holiday or picnic, but such is not the case. Said a man who has spent several days in camp this week:

"Having spent a day at the state rifle range, where the Fourth regiment, squadron and battery are in camp, I consider it only a matter of simple justice to call the attention of the people in general and of the city in particular to what going to camp means. Like many others I had the idea that a week at the camp or range was a picnic on a grand scale, a kind of a go-as-you-please affair—a place where the boys went to have a good time, and that real soldiering existed only in their imagination. Now, however, I must acknowledge that my mind has been thoroughly disabused of that idea. It is an every day occurrence to hear it said that 'our soldiers are only tin soldiers,' that they go into camp for a high old time, etc. There can be no doubt that many of our citizens hold these opinions because they have not taken time nor opportunity to inquire into the matter. In conversation with officers of the regular army at camp I was informed that the strictest military discipline prevails. The officers and men are out of bed at 5:30 in the morning, and by 7 o'clock are ready to begin rifle practice on the different ranges, of which there are seven or eight. This is continued until 12 o'clock. The afternoon is devoted to battalion drill, which occupies from two to three hours. After this the men are allowed a short rest before the evening meal. Then comes parade, which continues until sundown, which is announced by the booming of a cannon and the lowering of the colors. During all this time the squadron is going through its evolutions in another part of the camp, while from still another part can be heard the quick, sharp crack, crack, crack of the Gatling guns, and we know that the battery boys are being drilled in sighting the guns so accurately that in 600 yards or 1,000, they can pepper a fellow, whether standing, kneeling or lying down. Each soldier in his turn has to do twenty-four hours' guard duty—two hours on and four hours off. If any of the people who sneer at our soldiers think this is all fun let them shoulder a heavy Springfield rifle and march for two hours in the sun with the mercury anywhere from 95 to 110. That our men are soldiers is evidenced by the interest taken in them by the officers of the regular army, who watch every movement of officers and men. Proficiency is soon acquired under their practiced eyes. In conclusion I would say to the manufacturer, merchants, bankers and employers in general—the men who in troublesome times, are the first to say: 'Where is our militia?'—that they should take sufficient interest in the National guard to permit any of their employees who may belong to the guard to have camp week free. Visit the camp yourselves and see that camp life is not all fun; that there is work connected with soldiering, and lots of it. The officers of the Wisconsin National guard take no second place in courtesy, generosity and gentlemanly bearing, and all who visit the camp are assured of a cordial greeting."

Milwaukee Sentinel—By printing the receipts and keeping dark about the expenditures of the state Chairman Wall's organ ought to be able to make quite a flattering showing for the roster jobber's administration.

Manitowoc Press—With so much money the wonder is not that democracy should collect a small state tax, but we marvel that it should have to collect any. It should have a surplus.

Beloit Free Press—Major Upham lost something over a hundred thousand dollars by fire a few years ago, and he borrowed $50,000 to set his wheels and saws in motion again, and now the Milwaukee Journal publishes the mortgage as a campaign document. Great "politicians" these Journal people.

Oshkosh Northwestern—It is announced that the Manitowoc county delegation to the democratic state convention will present the name of Joseph Vilas as a candidate for governor. It is not presumed that the Milwaukee Journal will make any point against Mr. Vilas because he is one of the bondsmen of the democratic ex-state treasurer.

Merrill Advocate—The tax payers of Wisconsin should remember that if the roster contract had not been recalled by Governor Peck—recalled because The Madison Democrat, state printer, compelled him to withdraw it—the state would have been out in cold cash nearly $100,000 on that job alone. The state democratic administration did its best to make the steal.

Superior Leader: Judge John J. Jenkins, who will succeed Hon. Nils P. Hagen in congress richly merits the new honor that has come to him. A high minded gentleman with a head full of noble impulses and a life filled with many acts, he will command respect and recognition as the representative of the Tenth congressional district in the national congress.

Manitowoc County Chronicle (Dem.): It is proposed to nominate Honest John Hunner, the present state treasurer for governor and the proposition seems to strike the average democrat quite favorably. Still there are duties devolving upon the chief executive of the state that requires abilities of a different kind than those by the exercise of which John Hunner has become famous as the custodian of state funds.

The Sheboygan Telegram, which says "the nomination of Mr. Barney on personal grounds would be a good one and entirely acceptable to the republicans of the Fifth district," prefers a Sheboygan man. Sheboygan has a candidate in the person of Hon. George Pratt, who as a republican can ask the support of all other good republicans. He is a member of the Grand Army and as such will not be forgotten by his comrades of either party in the district, should he be chosen by the convention.

La Crosse Republican—Never during Major Upham's business career has there been a strike of the employees of the Upham company. Some of them have been in his service sixteen years and never has there been a suit instituted against the company to recover wages. The democratic organ grinders have started out to throw dirt, but they cannot make it stick to the republican candidate for governor. He is a clear-headed, honest and conscientious business man, and he will be a clear-headed, conscientious and honest governor.

DISEASE BLINDING CATTLE IN CENTER

MYSTERIOUS MALADY HAS NOT BEEN CONQUERED.

Narrow Escape From a Serious Accident—Center Crops Are Fair—Milton People Aid a Mother and Children—Picnic At Gibbs' Lake Drew 800 People.

CENTER, August 10.—The eye disease among cows in this section does not seem to abate much. While there are no new cases, there is but little improvement in the herds of William Dean, William Seaman and others where it first appeared. What might have been a very serious accident Wednesday afternoon was averted by a poor harness. A horse driven by the Misses Jessie Silverthorn, Myrtle Silverthorn, and Lizzie Harper, of Footville, became unmanageable when near the store, overturned the survey, and for a few moments the air was full of girls, dust, lunch baskets, &c. The harness giving way freed the animal, and the damages consisted only of a few bruised limbs and a played-out harness. Center has no "kick" on her crops, as compared with some of her neighboring towns. Tobacco and pastures are in much better shape than those either north or south of here. On many of the farms threshing is over, and owners of machines report good yields. Many are topping tobacco, and while not heavy, the quality is good. Town officers are thinking of making machine owners responsible for broken bridges, which would be about right. Fred Vankirk has his stock of groceries, clothing, shoes and notions complete, and will make it an object for the citizens of Center to patronize him in these lines. Politicians are thick, but the crop harvested at caucus time will be the same as ever. A lively time is promised to all who will turn out at that time. The state ticket gives general satisfaction and Center will give her usual republican support.

The box social at David Lowry's on Wednesday evening was well attended and a very pleasant time was had by the young people. Fred Vankirk, our groceryman, reports business good at the store and creamery. He carries a good full stock. Martin Brownell succeeds Lou Elert as assistant at the creamery. He comes highly recommended and will make one more good citizen Miss Marie Snyder has entirely recovered from her late illness.

The Misses Crow of Evansville, were the guests of their cousin, Miss Estelle Crow, last week. Frank Baack and family of Janesville, spent Sunday in Center. Butter, corn, oats, and in fact, everything the Center farmer raises is on the boom and all are happy.

MILTON AIDED A POOR FAMILY.

Miss Mills and Children Sent to Manitoba E. B. Saunders at Conference.

MILTON, August 18.—Mrs. Mills and children who have been aided by our citizens for some time, were sent to Manitoba where Mr. Mills is living, Tuesday. The Kings' Daughters, the M. E. church and the county furnished the transportation. Prof. C. E. Crandall returned to his work in the university of Chicago, Monday. Mrs. Crandall goes to Stoughton to take treatment of Dr. Hyland. Wednesday afternoon the Blue Diamonds and Milton Junction clubs had a game for purse of $5.00. The diamonds won by a score of 20 to 11. E. B. Saunders has gone to Brookfield, N. Y., to attend the Seventh-Day Baptist general conference. Miss Winnie Johnson, of Darien, has been the guest of Mrs. Clem W. Crumb. A. S. Walrath, of Minneapolis, and Sylvester Walrath, of Fulton, were visitors at W. H. Walrath's this week. Elmer Brown and family have located on the old Fitch Brown farm in Lima. Professor A. R. Crandall is building a conservatory on the south side of his house. Mrs. P. E. Seaver, who has been spending the past year at Wyocena, has moved back to her house in this village. Mrs. Jennie Morton was called to Boscobel, Tuesday morning by the dangerous illness of her sister, Mrs. Dr. Armstrong. Mrs. Vincent has painted her house and thereby improved its appearance. E. B. Saunders occupied the pulpit at the Seventh Day Baptist church Saturday morning. G. S. Babcock is about to build a new house on his land located on Janesville avenue. Mrs. Kate Mueller and Mrs. Lyman Reynolds are visiting Mr. and Mrs. N. Reynolds. The Edgerton club failed to put in an appearance this week as expected. Grove D. Clarke, who has been visiting here for some weeks, returned to his home in Rhode Island Thursday. Mrs. Martin, of Milwaukee, Miss Harbeck and Frank Harbeck, of Grand Haven, Mich., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James McEwan. Ira Flagler, of Eau Claire, was in town Thursday. He is still in the employ of "Uncle Sam" as a mail carrier. Mrs. John M. Grier and children of Milwaukee, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. D. Williams. W. A. Mayhew and D. Shimeal, of Clinton, were in the village Thursday. The W. R. C. have an ice cream social tonight, at Post hall for the benefit of the Phillips fire sufferer. Be sure to patronize them.

GIBBS LAKE PICNIC DREW CROWDS

Between Seven and Eight Hundred People Present—Miss M. Hayward Reengaged. PORTER, Aug. 10.—The Porter branch of the Ladies' T. A. society held their annual picnic last Tuesday at Gibbs' lake, which was a very successful affair both socially and financially.

It is estimated that between seven and eight hundred people were on the grounds. Rev. J. F. Howe, of Edgerton, was president of the day; and in a few well chosen words, introduced the speakers. Rev. D. Barrett, of St. Paul, delivered an eloquent address on "Patriotism," and J. L. Mahoney, a prominent attorney of Janesville, devoted his time and remarks to the temperance cause. Both addresses were well received. The Ladies' T. A. society, of Edgerton, attended in a body; the Albion Ladies' cornet band, and Porter strings bands, furnished music, and considering, it was a day long to be remembered. Miss Minnie Hayward of Evansville, has engaged the school in the Eagle district for the next year, fall term beginning September 3. Maggie McCarty spent a few days here last week, the guest of her friend, Mrs. W. H. Flarity, near Edgerton. Crops are very much in need of rain and everything has a scorched appearance. Mrs. Dan Murphy and daughters of Green, Iowa, were visiting relatives here on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Doolley are rejoicing over the safe arrival of a young son at their home on August 7. Misses Gertrude and Alice Farrel of Chicago, spent Tuesday here. Miss Maggie Stafford of Edgerton, spent a few days here last week.

NOT GOOD WEATHER FOR CROPS.

Reports From Different Parts of the State Show General Drouth.

Oats are now all harvested except in the northern portion where a few fields yet remain to be cut. Threshing is about half completed in the southern portion of the state. It is the opinion of a majority of the reports that all small grains are nearly if not quite up to the average in yield and quality.

Buckwheat is in good condition and an average yield is anticipated. Corn and potatoes however, are permanently injured by the long drouth. Corn planted in light soil will be nearly a failure and some farmers are cutting it up for feed. It is the general opinion that not more than half a crop can be secured even with abundant rain.

Potatoes will be small and few in a hill. The outlook for grapes is very good, the dry weather being favorable for that crop. Tobacco is also doing fairly well.

Pastures are dead and stock is being fed in many counties, and as a consequence the milk supply is falling off rapidly.

JANESVILLE BRICKS ARE BEST.

Tests Made in St. Louis Show Bower City Clay to be Excellent.

Janesville bricks may yet be the standard of excellence for this part of the state. O. L. DeForest is organizing a brick company here and has received this encouraging letter:

O. L. DEFOREST, Esq., JANESVILLE, Wis. DEAR SIR—Your barrel of clay has just been received. We will work it up just as soon as possible. The clay you send this time is the very finest we have ever seen, and we will make you some good samples of it. Now we will make you a press guaranteed to make 30,000 bricks per day, and when one kiln has been made if they are not equal to any made in the United States we will take the press back and you shall not be out anything. We did not suppose that such clay could be found in your county. It is 100 per cent better in all respects than our St. Louis clay, or in fact any that we have seen. Yours, etc., ROSE-KELLER BRICK MACHINE CO.

GAMES OF SCOTIA CALL OUT CROWDS

FAIR GROUNDS THE GOAL OF MANY PEOPLE.

Caledonian Festival Proves a Great Success—Tilting at the Rings Excites Mirth and a Picturesque Color Is Lent by Pipers and Dancers in Highland Costume.

Bits of plaid were in many of the buttonholes up and down Milwaukee street today and Scotch thistles stuck out from many a lapel. Sons of Scotia who had been driving over country roads ever since 2 o'clock in the morning began to string into town between 7 and 8. They knew the games didn't begin until 1 but they wanted to be here on time.

"I started at midnight," said one bearded giant, "and it'll be daylight to-morrow when I get home."

Bag pipes droned their summons at 12:30, and cars for the fair ground began to be crowded. The contests began at 1:30, President Alex. Galbraith being in charge. The grand stand was crowded with spectators, and both sides of the track were thickly lined. There were several innovations that proved popular, one being the wrestling match. Tilting at the rings evoked shouts of laughter, and there was much enthusiasm over the dancing and piping in costume by William Johnson, champion Scotch dancer; Miss Maude Gordon, first prize winner for dancing at World's Fair games; Master Willie Marr, first prize winner for dancing at World's Fair games; Hay Clark, Highland dancer and George Swanson, William Johnson and other pipers.

This evening there will be a grand ball at Concordia hall, for which Smith's orchestra will provide the music and the public will be made welcome.

LAWN SOCIAL A GREAT SUCCESS.

George M. McKee's Home and Grounds the Scene of a Pleasant Gathering.

George M. McKee's home was the scene of jollity last evening. On a sixty-foot platform back of the house young people danced to Johnny Smith's music. Locomotive headlights and Chinese lanterns lighted the improvised ball room and ribbons of admission were sold for fifty cents. In the house cream and cake were served by Misses Smith, Prichard, Jackman, Valentine, Lewis, Woodruff and Bostwick, Messrs. McKee and Vankirk. They were championed by Mesdames Victor P. Richardson and H. D. Hoover. A handsome amount was netted by the social and will help to build a parish house for Christ church.

HE WAS A PLUMBER.

Though His First Tender for a Job Did Not Look Encouraging.

"The plumber joke is worked to death, but I will tell you one anyhow; just because it is true," began a friend. "The young woman that figures in the story was sprinkling the street and used a hose that was sadly in need of repair. An itinerant plumber came along with a kit of tools slung over his shoulder. He asked the young woman if she wanted the hose fixed.

"What will you charge?" she answered.

"The man looked at the hose critically and then said he would repair it for fifteen cents. This was contrary to all traditions relating to plumbers' prices, so the young woman told the man she did not believe he was what he represented himself to be.

"Still," she said, "go ahead and fix the hose."

"The man took out his tools and soon had the hose nearly as good as new. The miss gave the man fifteen cents. He shook his head and said he wanted forty-five.

"Why," said the young woman in surprise, "you said you would do the work for fifteen cents."

"Yes, I know," he returned, "but there was more work than I thought."

"Well, I was afraid you wasn't a plumber when you first came up, but now I know you are, and am willing to give you a certificate to that effect," was what the young woman said when she gave the man his pay."

ACCURATE DESCRIPTION.

A Man's Best Effort to Describe How a Lady Was Dressed.

While I was stopping at a friend's house the other day her husband came home, and before he had taken off his coat and hat he exclaimed:

"Well, I wish you could have seen the woman I saw to-day!"

"Why, was she pretty?" we both asked.

"Pretty? Well, I should say so, and she had the neatest little suit you ever saw. By Jove! I wish you could get something that looked like that once in awhile," he said, turning to his wife.

"Well, tell us what it was like, and maybe I can," she observed.

"Oh, I can't tell you just what it was like, but it had those things over the shoulders like your purple dress."

"Do you mean ruffles?" interrupted his wife.

"Yes, I guess they are ruffles. It had a skirt of peculiar color, and the blouse was a sort of green. She wore a coat or something like most women wear, and a hat with ribbon over it. She looked stunning, I tell you!"

And his wife murmured: "I should think so."

HARPER'S HISTORY OF THE WAR

Harper's Pictorial History is universally recognized as the best history of the war yet published. This superb work has never been sold for less than $16 to $30. It has been sold only by subscription and but a very few men have been able to buy it.

The pages are the same size as Harper's Weekly and the work contains all the illustrations appearing in that great paper during the war. The work was edited by Richard Grant White and Henry M. Alden and is authentic, complete and reliable.

We have made arrangements whereby we can furnish Gazette subscribers with this splendid history of twenty-six parts at ten cents a part. These twenty-six parts will contain over one thousand war pictures and will make two handsome volumes when bound.

Many official documents of priceless historic value are quoted in full in the copious foot notes, such for instance as Lincoln's inauguration speeches, articles of federation of the early states, constitution of the United States, ordinance of secession, and many important papers, speeches, etc. The war story is consecutive and very fascinating. The introductory chapters, leading up to the struggle, and the chapter on the reconstruction period, are by some of the first writers of the age.

Oh, What a Surprise!

What an agreeable one, too, is experienced by the hitherto misguided individual who has been ceaselessly but vainly dosing for years past in the futile hope of curing constipation, when drastic pills and potions are abandoned for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a faithful auxiliary of nature, which does its work without gripping or weakening, but always effectually "throw physic to the dogs!" and use this benign and thorough laxative, which achieves results which astonish as well as those who use it. Not only a regular habit of body, but complete digestion and assimilation are restored by its use. It regulates the liver and kidneys and counteracts a tendency to rheumatism. In no case where it is possible to procure it, should its use be delayed. Fortify with it against malaria.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1664—Birth in Holland of Bernard Nieuwenhuys, author of "The Christian Philosopher," from which Paley plagiarized his "Natural Theology."

1672—John and Cornelius de Witt, Dutch statesmen, murdered by a mob at The Hague.

1782—Sir Charles James Napier, British soldier and author; born; died 1853.

1792—Parisian mob stormed the Tuileries and massacred the Swiss guards.

1810—Count Camillo Benso di Cavour, Italian statesman, born in Turin; died there 1861.

1861—General Nathaniel Lyon killed at the battle of Wilson's Creek; born 1819.

1863—Adah Isaacs Menken, noted actress and equestrienne, died in Paris; born in New Orleans 1835.

1876—Edward William Lane, noted Arabic scholar and translator of "The Arabian Nights," died; born 1801.

1884—Earthquake shocks felt in 13 states.

1885—James W. Marshall, discoverer of gold in California, died at Kelsey, Cal.; born 1812.

1892—Overthrow of the Salisbury government in England.

Congressman Bryan of Nebraska, may lack judgment, but his nerve cannot be doubted, since he announced his intention to simultaneously be an editor and the dem-pop candidate for the United States senate. He'll wear a smaller hat after election.

If the danger was considered pressing enough by Mr. Cleveland to call for an issue of $50,000,000 in bonds when the gold reserve fell to $65,000,000, what does he think of it now that it is $17,000,000 less?

It may be unnecessarily "rubbing it in" to say that every republican who contributed to the Kolbites in Alabama, demonstrates the adage "a fool and his money soon parted," but it is none the less true.

The Kentucky man who tried to make a pet of a rattlesnake, was quite as wise as those republicans who voted the democratic ticket in '92, and like them, he lives to regret it.

Congressional investigations seldom find out anything of importance. Still, the country believes with Senator Chandler that, one should be made of the Whitney coal syndicate.

Colorado's governor has an opportunity at the bicycle meet to see how much more advantageously wheels can be used on the ground than in one's head.

If you wish to know what sort of a tariff bill the democrats will eventually agree upon, apply to the sugar trust for information.

No fouler blot will appear upon the pages of the history of Mr. Cleveland's second administration than his treatment of Hawaii.

Governor Boise will find out that old advertising cannot be successfully used, either in or out of politics.

Debs has more sense than Coxey; he recognized the worthlessness of a populist congressional nomination.

New Clothing Arriving Daily.

Our fall line of clothing is arriving, big invoice received yesterday. It is made up much better than heretofore, and we can sell almost a half cheaper than last year. Buying as we do at least 15 to 25 per cent cheaper than any other clothing house in the city, you can save money by trading with us.

T. J. ZIEGLER.

Completely Buried.

Oh! What a blanket our Pickwick clothing is to high priced merchant tailors. We can now fit any sized man, as heretofore odd shaped men had to go to a tailor and pay at least $35 or $40 for the same article. We sell for $25, Pickwick opening about September 1st. T. J. Ziegler.

BRIEF BITS OF HUMOR.

Nothing Original About Him.

One of the greatest sorrows of famous personages is that it is impossible to live up to the ideal opinion which the people whom they meet in the ordinary affairs of life have formed of them.

It is recorded that a certain literary man of high reputation had occasion to remark to a waiter in the restaurant where he sometimes lunches:

"Waiter, this beefsteak is very tough."

The waiter looked at him with a sorrowful expression and sighed deeply.

"Perhaps you will tell me," said the literary man, "why you sigh in that fashion?"

"Ah, sir," said the waiter, "I took you for a man who always said original things, and here you come and say just the same things that all the rest of them do!"—Tid-Bits.

A Denouement.

He—I never loved before! I swear it! Till I met you last week I never knew what love was.

She—Never before?

He—Never!

She (sighing)—I did not think you could forget me so soon.

He—So soon? Forget you? I don't understand.

She—Then know, Reginald Hoodoo, that we met at Asbury Park last summer and were engaged for two weeks, yet you say you have never loved before.—Truth.

Unintelligible.

Two Scotch ladies of Stranraer were one day returning from church, when they found the town hall placarded with news of the victories in Spain.

"Is it no surprisesin', Kirstie," said one, "that the Breetish aye beat the French in battle?"

"Not in the least, Maggie," was the reply. "Dinna ye ken that the Breetish aye pray before gaum into battle?"

"But canna the French pray, too?"

"An' wha'd understand them, if they did?" was the contemptuous response. "Jabbering bodies!"

Very Drunk.

Magistrate—How do you know this gentleman was drunk when you arrested him?

Policeman—He was talking about his wife, and he said she didn't care what sort of dresses she had so long as she was comfortable, and she didn't get mad about the furniture when the neighbors had better, and she didn't care for a fine horse, and didn't want a carriage, and she would rather do her own housework than bother with servants.—N. Y. Weekly.

Marie's Statement Disproved.

Johnny—Take that came out of your mouth, Mr. Chappie, and let me see you put your foot in it.

Mr. Chappie—Why, I couldn't do that if I tried, Johnny.

Johnny—There, I told Marie last night that she was wrong!—Judge.

Cause of Death.

"You say my beloved predecessor died of a very trifling cause?" asked the newly-arrived missionary of the South Sea Island king.

"Yes," replied the sable monarch, with a ruminating glance at his favorite copper kettle; "yes, he died of a mere boil."—N. Y. World.

A Singular Plural.

Fair Graduate—Which is the proper expression: "Girls are," or "Girls is?"

Chorus of Schoolmates—"Girls are," of course!

Fair Graduate—Of course; pshaw! Girls are my hat on straight?—Puck.

The Point.

Brobson—Your calling me an ass, sir, doesn't make me one.

Cralk—Of course not. It merely indicates the accuracy of my observation.—Truth.

Another Don't.

Don't lend your umbrella.
Or your name to a bill.
For the first won't come back.
But the other one will.

—Arkansas Traveler.

PREPARING FOR EMERGENCIES.

"You don't want to have your picture taken in that shape?"

"Yes, I do."

"Wouldn't you rather wait until the swelling in your face has gone down?"

"No, indeed; if I did the picture wouldn't be of any use to me. I am suing for a divorce and need some proof to show how the old lady has used me up."—Fliegende Blaetter.

Hit at Chicago Girls.

Chicago girls, where'er we find them, Think the bakery they take, And, departing, leave behind them Footprints no one else could make.

—Detroit Tribune.

Luring Him On.

Old Boarder—How does it happen that you gave that man the tenderloin and me the tough end?

Waiter Girl—He ain't decided to stay yet.—N. Y. Weekly.

No Fear of Microbes.

Mother—Did I hear you kiss young Dr. Phlynn at the door?

Daughter—Yes, mamma; but Charley applied an antiseptic immediately—Judge.

Strike Echoes.

"Your hair, dear," said Miss Irene, "seems to be badly tied-up."

"I hadn't noticed it, love," replied Miss Laura, sweetly, "I was looking at your misplaced switch."—Chicago Tribune.

No Opportunity.

"And she didn't change countenance?"

"No; there was no time to return to her boudoir."—Puck.

Does the Shoe Pinch?

Or is it the price, or both? If you've never been pinched in either way and are satisfied with your shoes, the price and the dealer, we can't do anything for you. But, you, madam, and you, sir, looking for shoes that deal kindly with your feet as well as your purse—here's a big stock at 55 cents on the dollar, shoes that fit, for we are the recognized foot fitters.

BROWN BROS. &amp; LINCOLN.

Killed by Collapsing Walls.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—A portion of one of the inner or corridor walls of Jersey City's new municipal building, which when completed will occupy the square bounded by Montgomery, Mercer, Grove and Henderson streets, collapsed yesterday. Two men were killed and five injured. The accident was caused by the wind.

Started the Mills with 2,000 Men.

BELLAIRE, Ohio, Aug. 10.—The Aetna Standard Iron works were placed in operation yesterday, after ten weeks' close down, giving employment to 2,000 people. The Holly River Lumber company of Palmer, W. Va., south of here, has failed. The liabilities are $360,000.

YOUNG GIRL STRUCK DOWN BY APOPLEXY

MATTERS OF IMPORTANCE SUMMED UP CRISPLY.

Happenings On Janesville Streets Since Morning Are Here Mirrored Accurately for Supper Table Review—Comings and Goings of People Well Known.

MISS GRACE GARDINER, the eighteen-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Gardiner, lies at the point of death at the home of her parents on Ruger avenue, as the result of a stroke of apoplexy. She was overcome while walking this forenoon. Her age makes the case very remarkable from a medical point of view.

JOHN L. CAMPBELL, of Paris, Texas, the capable young driver who had a string of southern trained horses at the Janesville track since the meeting last month, will whip the stable to Milwaukee to-night. Mr. Campbell has among his flyers Free Coinage, the celebrated grey pacer, with a record of 2:11 3/4; Gold Medal (pacer) 2:14 1/4; C. W. G., who also got his record here, 2:18 1/2; Prince, whose record of 2:22 1/2, was gotten here last June; and Robert Ellsmere (pacer) 2:25. Mr. Campbell's work on the Janesville track won him much praise and considerable money as well.

HART BROTHERS, at South Main street, have engaged Prof. Marilla, the sleight of hand performer, to give an exhibition at their place Saturday evening. The professor has a wide reputation, and as he has lately devised some new feats, he will display them first at Messrs. Hart's Saturday evening. A good time is anticipated. Free lunch will be served. Everybody invited.

FRANK FARNSWORTH is visiting in Janesville for a few weeks, preparatory to returning to Rockford and launching out in a new line of business. He has severed his connection with the Forest City Baking Company, of which he was one of the proprietors, and formerly secretary and manager, although he still retains a good sized block of stock.

We have had and are still having a lively sale on Cheney Bros' $1.00, 24-inch printed silks at 55 cents—not a few pieces but enough to benefit many purchasers. We never do things half way, by running out of material before the sale has fairly started. The 40 cent silks are a great bargain. J. M. Bostwick & Sons.

The name Majestic is a synonym for that which is grand and good, a fee simple to power, a title to greatness, and the grand Majestic Steel Range is all the name implies. See it, have its many excellent points explained to you. Music at the exhibit from 7 to 9:30 this evening. A. H. Sheldon & Co.

The court house is almost deserted these hot, dry days. It is understood Judge Bennett will not try any more cases this term; that he proposes to take a short rest. There appears to be no pressing business before the court, therefore the judge thinks this a favorable time to take a brief recess.

Now is the best time to go and see land in Clark county, for sale by the C. S. Graves Land Co. The present price will be the lowest for which it will ever be offered. Why rent a farm or pay a high price for it when you can buy of this company at only $7.50 per acre, easy terms.

OUR shoes are all marked in plain figures and Saturday we will give you 25 per cent off on every pair in the house. We will make this one of the greatest days for low prices there has been this year. Every pair warranted. Lloyd & Son, 57 West Milwaukee street.

J. C. SCHULER has returned from Ripon, where he was one of the judges at the state bicycle meet. He saw one state record broken, and the world's record on tandem riding lowered four-fifths of a second by Titus and Cavan, of St. Louis. They rode a mile in 1:59.

The Athletics will play ball at Edgerton tomorrow and Edgerton people insist that the Janesville nine will be defeated, thereby tempting fate to whitewash them for their presumption.

A Desirable Hostelry.

Mrs. Archie Galbraith, proprietor of the Park hotel, left no stone unturned to make this hotel the most popular place in the city today. The dining room was appropriately decorated for the occasion, and the dinner menu a regular Scotch one. To say that the Scots appreciated her efforts is putting it very mildly. The house was crowded, and everybody spoke in the highest terms of the Park. Such efforts as Mrs. Galbraith is putting forth are bound to bring good results, a fact which becomes plainer every day, as one glances over the register and notices the long list of names.

FIRES ARE THICK ALONG THE LINE

RAILROAD MEN PESTERED BY INNUMERABLE BLAZES.

Sparks Set Timber and Grass to Blazing Furiously and Keep Section Men Busy—C. I. Warner's Fast Run to Mineral Point—News From the Depots.

Right-of-way fires are the bane of the railroad man's life these days. Every spark from an engine, and even an especially hot epithet of a brakeman when a pin sticks, causes a fire and the section men are kept fighting blazes most of the time. Word was telegraphed to the Chicago & Northwestern freight depot late yesterday afternoon that a fire was raging in the woods two miles north of town on the Evansville cut off and a force of section men were at once hurried to the scene. After hard work they succeeded in extinguishing the blaze. They said that there was a herd of cattle running at large in the woods and the fire and smoke nearly drove them frantic. They raced around the lot like a lot of lunatics. Later in the evening another fire could be seen from the river road, which, judging from the reflection was of a pretty good size. There are blackened patches all along the embankments that show where fires have burned themselves out.

Engineer Warren Rode Fast.

They made the Mineral Point train on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road buzz after they got out of the Janesville yards yesterday. For forty-seven minutes they had been compelled to wait for a train on the other division and when Engineer Charles Warren got the signal "go ahead" from Conductor Charles Joss he pulled the throttle open and away they went. They made the eighty-mile run including all the stops in remarkably fast time, and when they pulled into Mineral Point they were but three minutes late, Engineer Warren having made up thirty-seven minutes in eighty miles, thereby adding another clincher to his reputation for getting out all the speed there is in a locomotive. His train was a heavy one and had three heavy coaches in addition.

Conductor C. M. Joss who runs between Milton and Mineral Point is looking for a suitable house, in Janesville with an eye to making this city his home. He now resides at Madison.

E. J. Samuels Manages An Excursion.

E. J. Samuels the ticket agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road will be in charge of the excursion on that road which will go to the Del's of the Wisconsin August 21. Mr. Samuels has placed tickets on sale with King & Skelly, and those who buy them intending to go and find afterward that they cannot do so, can get their money back. The number that can go on the excursion is limited.

A. J. Wilbur, the efficient cashier at the Chicago & Northwestern depot, has gone to Mitchell, South Dakota, for a two weeks' vacation. His breech loader and a box of shells went with him, and he will spend a portion of his time shooting prairie chickens. His sister, Miss Lottie Wilbur, accompanied him. Alvah Hemmens is in charge of Mr. Wilbur's work during his absence.

Frank Brown, the capable St. Paul operator, is selling tickets while E. J. Samuels is working up his excursion to the Del's.

The Northwestern Company are putting several new culverts in the "cut off" line.

WANT GIRL-ABUSERS PUNISHED.

La Prairie Farmer Much Interested in the Ferrin Case.

The four young men who are charged with abusing Esther Ferrin of Shopiere, were taken to Beloit today, Marshal Appleby coming up for them and meeting Sheriff Bear at the train. The neighbors who live near the Ferrin home are much wrought up over the affair and want it pushed to the end.

DEATH HAND FELL HEALILY.

Flynn.

For the third time in as many years the death angel entered Thomas Flynn's home near Footville yesterday and carried away a loved child, a little girl whose coming but four months ago had caused them joy that helped assuage the grief for the ones gone before. The remains were brought to Janesville this afternoon and entered at Mount Olivet.

James Plunkett.

James Plunkett an aged resident of Footville died this morning at his home in that town. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

SCANDAL AND BUSY-BODIES.

Several Janesville People Need a Lesson On This Line.

Janesville is not free from a class of people who have grown gray and careworn in the arduous work of looking after other people's business. If a new enterprise is started in the city this tireless element dilates its nostrils and scents fraud predicting failure and calamity. The acme of happiness is reached if failure results. For the past few months the hospitals of the city have been the target for this class of wingless angels and all sorts of scandals have been raised as a sweet morsel. The city hospital under the management of a few philanthropic people, who have contributed cheerfully of time and money for the support is denounced as an institution of questionable character and the officers and directors maligned and slandered. The McChesney Medicine Company and Sanitarium, a business enterprise asking no favors and doing an extensive business, benefiting the city through its liberal advertising is also denounced, by this class of citizens. The hospital now being opened by Dr. Sutherland will receive due attention from this same class of busy-bodies. In order that these same busy-tongued mortals may start square with Dr. Sutherland, The Gazette will give them a few facts:

Dr. Sutherland is recognized as the leading homeopathic surgeon of the state.

He has long felt the need of a hospital for operative cases. He has secured for this purpose the use of a portion of the Windsor Hotel.

He has no interest in the business of the McChesney Medicine Company.

His sanitarium will be advertised the same as all sanitariums are advertised.

His sanitarium will employ a specialist for diseases of the tongue, removing slanderous organs without pain, in case the demand warrants.

He will endeavor to live in Janesville and attend to his practice as heretofore.

BEN SERNS IS AGAIN ARRESTED.

Jefferson County Authorities Will Now Push the Case Against Him.

Ben Serns did not get away from Janesville scot free yesterday, although he was discharged in the municipal court because of a lack of jurisdiction of the court to try him on a charge that neither looks well in print or adds more points to a gentleman's crown of glory. Serns should have been arrested in Jefferson county, and was let loose on that ground. He at once left for the depot to go to Chicago, but Sheriff Bear was notified by Sheriff Kraby, of that county, to arrest him, and he did so, overtaking Serns as he was about to step on the train.

COTTON REACHES HERE AT LAST.

Three Carloads Shipped to Janesville Two Months Ago, Before the Strike.

Three carloads of cotton that have been on the road ever since the strike began, reached the Janesville cotton factory today and were unloaded. Lack of material has kept the mills idle for some time.

PROGRAMME FOR THE EVENING.

Talk Is Cheap, But Facts Are Facts.

Talk unless substantiated by facts amounts to nothing. Now when we say we can sell to you the best steel range on earth, we don't stop there but go right ahead and show you other ranges to prove our assertion. We don't ask you to believe what we say but the fact is we want you to call and find out for yourself what a great difference there is between the Garland Steel range and other ranges which we have standing beside the Garland. Facts are facts, and no sane person can dispute them when both sides of the question are put as plainly as we put them.

ALBANY BEER WAR GETS MORE MIXED

PARTIES CANNOT ARREST EACH OTHER FAST ENOUGH.

Constable Cavanaugh Charged With Assault For Lanning Hahn With an Ax, While Eight Rioters Are Held In Bonds—Hahn Traded a Farm For the Beer.

Officers and William Hahn's backers can't get each other arrested fast enough at Albany.

It all grows out of the "beer war."

In the riot that followed Constable Cavanaugh attempts to seize the stock, Hahn was struck with an ax by Cavanaugh. He thereupon had Cavanaugh arrested for assault and the officers have caused the arrest of eight of the beer defenders on a charge of resisting an officer, riot and as many other charges as could be written on a sheet of legal cap. Attorney Douglas is prosecuting and the defendants were held in $300 bonds to answer September 1. Albany is a temperance village so another prosecution for a violation of the excise law is probable.

Hahn's having so much beer was the result of a trade with the Schlitz Brewing Company whereby they became owners of a farm while Hahn got $1,200 in cash and was due to receive $1,200 more in beer. The Janesville claimants, N. B. Robinson & Co. had a claim for $180 and leaving of the trade Mr. Robinson heaved on the stock to get his pay. The goods were levied upon all right but the officers didn't get possession and they say that there are several chapters yet to follow.

IF LOVE COULD RULE THE WORLD.

If love could rule the universe,
How changed would all things be!
He would remove in language terse
All bars in his decree.
No rank could ever intervene
To stay affection's course.
'T would bow its head with lowly mien
Before his gentle force.
The earth would be so bright,
The radiant sun
Would shed its warmth and light
For every one.

A king might then a peasant wed,
An empress love her page,
A seamstress with a princess bred
Might throw her winsome gage.
Sweet sentiment would rule the earth,
With banners high unfurled,
And happiness no more a dearth,
Could love but rule the world.
How happy all would be,
An Eden vale
Again the earth would see,
Could love prevail.

TOWNLEY'S HEIR.

There are a few Philadelphians living who still remember the "Fourteen Chimneys," a noted city landmark dating back to the Revolution. They were recognized in the old directories thus: "Sam. May, oysterman, No. 5 Fourteen Chimneys." They stood on the west side of Fifth street, above Race, and extended from the southwest corner of Mulberry alley south to the present No. 222, now an ink factory. In fact, the back part of this establishment is the only portion of the building left, and this was a part of the Ettrix mansion, belonging to a curious family who owned much of the land thereabouts and noted for eccentricities in dress and opinions. There were in all eight houses, and they had been built to fit the chimneys, as these were much higher than the two-story dwellings. These stood back from the street and had gardens in front from which the neighbors were supplied with vegetables.

The principal industry here in early times must have been butchering, as layers of bones, cattle horns and heads are turned up when the street has been opened. In 1818 one of the most respected residents of the "Fourteen Chimneys" was a Miss Rachel Barron, a bright mulatto who had been left a small fortune by a member of the Bidle family, whose servant she had been for 20 years.

Miss Barron was very charitable and did much good in aiding the poor, who were plenty enough in the numerous courts and alleys of that vicinity, and it is in this connection that our story begins.

In 1806 a man named Richard Vane Townley was living in Philadelphia. He was an Englishman, handsome in appearance, with polished manners and pleasing address. He had many friends, as it was reputed that he came from an excellent family at home, but there was a mystery about his means of living. He always had plenty of money, dressed and lived expensively, so it was supposed that he had an income from property in England, but all this was dissipated by the report that he had been principal in a duel at Saratoga Springs; that the alleged cause was a quarrel at the card table, and that the courteous, stately Englishman was in effect a professional gambler.

When this was known, it affected Mr. Townley's position in society adversely, but card playing was a recognized industry in those times and carried no popular odium with it, and that gentleman still seemed to prosper.

When he came to Philadelphia, his companion was a boy about 15, who was his only child, the mother being dead. James was a delicate lad, but gentle, and he was put in a private school and much liked by his associates, but his father, mindful of the vicissitudes of his profession, bound James to Benjamin Jones, at the southeast corner of Second and Chestnut streets, to learn engraving, and this he did, becoming a good workman. His father, however, supplied him with too much money, and he ceased to work, became unsteady and finally dissipated. When left without resources by the death of the elder Townley, he was forced to go to work at his trade.

Richard Townley left nothing to his son, but before dying he confided to a well known member of the old bar certain papers and told that gentleman the story of his wasted life.

In the latter part of the eighteenth century Apley Park, in Shropshire, now one of the show places of England, was owned by Sir Edmund Foster. It had once belonged to the Lucys of Charl-cote and came to the Fosters by marriage. Sir Edmund had two sisters. One married a Devonshire rector named Childs, the other Philip Maley Townley of Shrewsbury. Both Mr. and Mrs. Townley died early, leaving an only son—Richard Vane Townley.

Richard was adopted by his bachelor uncle, Sir Edmund, and was sure to enter on an inheritance of £12,000 per annum, but he was wild and reckless and was sent away from Oxford in disgrace, and for a time forbidden to appear at Apley Park. Sir Edmund was getting quite infirm and much controlled and influenced by his housekeeper, Mrs. Darby, who had been in the family from girlhood. She interceded for Richard, and he was finally restored to favor and came back to the park, only to get into a fresh scrape. Mrs. Darby had a niece staying with her, a very beautiful and good girl, and with her Richard fell madly in love, and failing to get her on less honorable terms persuaded her to elope and get married.

The aunt had been away on a visit and returned to find her niece gone. Suspecting the worst, she at once informed Sir Edmund of his nephew's new delinquency and had him send for his lawyer. A new will was made and no mention therein of Richard Townley. Shortly afterward Mrs. Darby learned the truth and found that she had succeeded in disinheriting her son-in-law, but was too shrewd to let the master know the real facts, as he was intensely proud and would regard the misalliance as more flagitious than the supposed seduction.

Mr. Scrope of Shrewsbury was the family solicitor, an upright gentleman, who had known Townley's father, and he persuaded the baronet to make his will as follows: Mrs. Childs, his niece, had the property for life; then her children by seniority inherited, and then heirs male, and failing them or issue the son of Richard Townley to inherit in fee. As there were nine of the Childs children, James Townley's chance of gaining the inheritance his father had forfeited seemed very remote.

Sir Edmund died, leaving a large personal estate in addition to Apley Park, and the Childs entered into possession.

James Townley had no force of character and was, moreover, improvident and careless, and he added to his responsibilities by marrying a very pretty young woman, named Cray, who was a seamstress in one of those one storied shops on Eighth street, below Sansom. Each did their best to make a living, but the husband's health failed, and then poverty came. Mrs. Townley was delicate and could do little to support the household, now increased by the birth of a sickly boy.

Rachel Barron had known the elder Townley and nursed his son when ill with a fever, and she came forward, took the stricken family to her own home at the "Fourteen Chimneys" and cared for them. The husband was then dying from quick consumption and the wife failing in health, and both were in effect paupers.

In the month of March, 1827, a small, thin man, evidently English and looking very much like a ferret, came to see James Townley. He was, he said, a friend of his father's and had but recently heard of the son's affliction. He talked sympathetically, left several dollars and promised to call again, and this he did several times, always giving Mrs. Townley money.

Rachel watched him closely and became very distrustful. Mrs. Townley had told her something of her husband's history, and after many injunctions to do nothing until she returned the resolute Rachel paid a visit to the late Richard McCall.

He heard her story indifferently, but advised that Mrs. Townley should sign no papers without letting him know of it. The woman hurried home, and entering the house heard some one talking up stairs. She went at once to the Townley's room and peeped in. Two men were at the bedside. James, propped up by pillows, had before him on a piece of board a paper, and his wife had just placed a pen in his feeble hand. On the table was a pile of notes and gold.

With a rush the mulatto grabbed the paper, almost upsetting both men, who turned on her fiercely.

"Be careful what you're doing, woman. That is a legal document that Mr. Townley has received money to execute, and I'll hold you responsible for damages."

"All right! This yer is my house. You get out and take yer money with you. We ain't signing anything today." And the men were resolutely hustled down stairs. In an hour after Mr. McCall and his clerk came walking in and heard the story.

"Let me see the paper. Ah, yes, a shrewd scheme to get Townley to convey his right to a magnificent estate for $250. We are just in time, it seems." Townley was almost unconscious, but he lived long enough to know that he was the owner of Apley Park. This freak of fortune came about in this manner.

Mrs. Childs' husband died before the baronet, and she was the head of the family. Shortly after coming to Apley Park the eldest son broke his neck in the hunting field and was brought home dead. His elder sister was in Germany, and her mother received a letter telling of her sudden illness, and with several children, a maid and a man attendant started at once to cross the channel, posted through France and got safely to Germany, and with two carriages was driving along the Rhine, when the bank gave way and all were precipitated into the river, and the maid and postillion alone escaped. Thus the Childs family was extinguished.

The attorney for the heir lost no time in communicating with Mr. McCall, apprising him that one of their clerks had sailed for America, and that his errand was to make some arrangement for his own benefit with the new heir and to warn that gentleman at once.

Thanks to Rachel Barron, no warning was needed. James Townley died two months after hearing of his good fortune, and his wife, attended by Rachel, started for England. Inside of two years both the widow and son died. Rachel married a very respectable white man in the neighborhood, moved to Brighton and kept a hotel there, much frequented by Shropshire people. Her property here was looked after by Richard Vaux, who was also a patron of her hotel at Brighton. She died in 1855, quite wealthy.

The Foster family again came into ownership of Apley Park, and it is now one of the most beautiful places in England.—Philadelphia Times.

BEWITCHED

Was His Trusty Gun, so the Old Farmer Thought.

It happened one autumn that a farmer, Bill Hawkins by name, had gone to one of the numerous husking bees, taking his gun. Placing it in a corner he proceeded to mix with the crowd and have a good time generally. Of course, refreshments were served, and Bill was feeling happy when the party broke up.

Taking up his gun, he started on his way home, singing. Suddenly the gun went off with a loud report. He was startled, as he couldn't remember having loaded the weapon. He continued his journey and his song, but just as he reached the end of a verse another report rent the night air. With a look of surprise on his face he examined the gun, but could find no cause for its unusual conduct. After this the gun punctuated his remarks and songs with reports that increased in loudness every time.

Bill began to get nervous and was carrying his gun gingerly in his hand, when, with a terrific roar, the gun again exploded. He jumped into the air, and, dropping the gun with a wild yell, broke into his swiftest run and never stopped until safe at home and in bed, where he remained shaking with fear all night.

A few days later, while relating his experience to a crowd of men hanging around the store, he noticed a grin on the faces of his audience. Demanding an explanation, the mystery was soon solved. Some jokers had taken his gun and put in a big charge of powder, then a smaller charge and another slice of punk, and so on until the gun was full, and just before Bill started for home they lighted the last piece of punk. As Bill listened an expression of deep disgust spread over his face.

Many farms in the uplands of South America have been stocked with cattle carried on men's backs over the mountains when young.

In 1896 the Chilama valley in Peru was practically a desert and worth nothing. An old Inca aqueduct was discovered and at a cost of $8,000 was put in working order, making the region very valuable.
